

Sticking to the single issue at hand, the Element 1 requirement for HF operation, you could leave it as an endorsement for those who want to operate in the CW portion of the bands. It would insure a minimal competency.